

Norbert Rotter to become new CFO of itelligence AG

Bielefeld (Germany), November 21, 2007 – Norbert Rotter, 39, Diplom Kaufmann (degree in Business Administration), will become the new CFO of itelligence AG, one of the leading international full-service IT providers for SAP. On January 1, 2008 Norbert Rotter will start as CFO in the Group headquarters in Bielefeld. A banker by profession, he worked for a total of 12 years as an auditor / tax advisor for KPMG Deutsche Treuhand-Gesellschaft Aktiengesellschaft Wirtschaftsprüfungsgesellschaft, where he was able to gain an abundance of experience in supporting international and listed companies. In addition, he spent three years with KPMG in New York advising German subsidiaries in the USA and earned the U.S. auditor qualification of a CPA (Certified Public Accountant). With Norbert Rotter, itelligence gains a highly experienced international financial expert.

Norbert Rotter: “I am looking forward to an exciting role at itelligence AG. As a result of the emerging new structure of itelligence AG and the planned international growth, especially in the USA and Asia, this role has, of course, a special attraction.”

Herbert Vogel, CEO of itelligence AG, commented: “We are pleased that, with Norbert Rotter, we will be able to welcome an internationally experienced financial expert as CFO. With him, we will be able to master the expansion and continue our drive towards further international growth.”

As of December 31, 2007 itelligence AG and Jörg Vandreier will end their relationship by mutual agreement. The itelligence AG Supervisory Board extends its thanks to Mr. Vandreier for his support in the successful restructuring and reorientation of the company, and wishes him all the best in the future.
